

Predicting Future Quality of Life

a holistic approach to aging

Complimentary Luncheon Seminar

While many focus on retirement planning to only include the financial implications, there are several contingencies that may put a dent in your plans. Issues such as ailing health, the decline of your social network, or even the ability to get reliable transportation can all affect your mental state.

In the new face of retirement planning, money is not the only factor. Answer questions like:

- What are my housing options once I sell my home?
- Who will change my light bulbs?
- What are the myths of growing older and how do I keep myself feeling young mentally and physically?

Join us for a complimentary luncheon where we will focus on the holistic approach to having a satisfying and rich life.
